Born in Havana, Juan Francisco Manzano (1797-1853) became enslaved at a young age. The first slave narrative in the Hispanic Caribbean, Manzano’s Autobiografía remains to this day one of the most important testimonies of the rigors of slavery in the New World.